TABLE OF CONTENTS

Side a:  pp. 1-14

Side b:  pp. 14-26
Influence of Oriental philosophy--Zen Buddhism--likes and dislikes--Marcel Duchamp--Music of Changes -Lou Harrison--Anecdote; American Music Center--relationship with Boulez--Boulez commenting on Varese’s music--Cage's Silent piece--discussion of history.

Side c:  pp. 26-34
discussion of history, past and present (cont.)--art based on history--influence of Thoreau--Score In Parts--Cage's Radio piece--Music of Changes--chance operations Cage's new work: a Bicentennial commission, Ozawa and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Side d:  pp. 34-41
Continuation of discussion about Cage's Bicentennial work--Thoreau drawings--Anecdote about Schoenberg and criticism--explanation of instructions for the Cage commission--more discussion of the work.

Side e:  pp. 41-69
Cage's interest in old instruments for his Bicentennial piece: Renga with Musicircus 1776--glass harmonica, harp, Jew's harp--open and close minded instruments and musicians--Swift Eagle--Cage describes an Indian PowWow--Black Theater Alliance add the prepared piano--Neely Bruce--Use of chance operations in Renga with Musicircus 1776.

Side f:  pp. 69-87
Composers of early American music(ca. 1776), in regard to Cage's Bicentennial work--Tunesmiths, Childe ballads--Satie talks--Boulez letters--Milton Babbitt.
Side g: pp. 87-107
Apartment House 1776--early American anthems, fife tunes, 18th c. military drumming--imitations of Moravian music--Cage’s confrontation with harmony--Renga vs. the Apartment House--Swift Eagle--Jeanne Lee--Helen Schneyer--more explanation on the use of chance operations to create Renga with Apartment House 1776--discussion of the work with regard to Seiji Ozawa and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Side h: pp. 107-118
more on Renga with Apartment House 1776--Les Chants de Maldoror Pulverises par l'Assistance Meme--discussion of Renga with Apartment House 1776, continued, to end of tape.