

Saturday, April 21, 2007

Remembering David Kraehenbuehl

A One-Day Conference at Yale University

Please join us in New Haven

for an informative and enjoyable day in which we remember the legacy of David Kraehenbuehl (1923–1997). A series of speeches, an oral history, and a piano masterclass are among the events throughout the day that will address Kraehenbuehl's contributions as a composer, a music educator, and a music theorist. The conference finale will be a performance of Kraehenbuehl's rarely heard masterpiece Drumfire for chorus and orchestra. The conference is sponsored by the Irving S. Gilmore Music Library and the David Kraehenbuehl Society, with additional support provided by the Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library, the Yale School of Music, the Yale Institute of Sacred Music, and the Neighborhood Music School.

Program at Sudler Hall, Yale University, 100 Wall Street

8:30–9:00 a.m.

Coffee

9:00–9:15 a.m.

Welcome

9:15–10:30 a.m.

Paper Session I

Moderator: Patrick McCreless

Speakers: Ted Coons, Larry Dissmore

10:30–11:00 a.m.

Break

11:00 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Paper Session II

Moderator: Daniel Harrison

Speakers: Richmond Browne, Vanessa Hawes

Morning and afternoon sessions are free and open to the public. The evening performance of Drumfire is a ticketed event, and tickets can be purchased at the door.

New Haven hotels provide accommodations at various price levels and include the New Haven Omni Hotel, which will serve as the home base for the conference presenters. Contact information for the Omni and other New Haven hotels can be found at: www.library.yale.edu/beinecke/brblinfo/brblaccomodations.html. Be sure to request the Yale rate when making reservations. For additional information, please call 203-432-0492.

Program at the Neighborhood Music School, 100 Audubon Street

2:15–3:30 p.m.

Oral History: Remembering David Kraehenbuehl

Moderator & Interviewer: Vivian Perlis

Participants: Marie Kraehenbuehl, Sylvia Kraehenbuehl, Charles Burkhardt, Alvin Lucier

3:30–4:00 p.m.

Break

4:00–4:45 p.m.

Master class of Kraehenbuehl's music for young performers

Martha Braden, Mary Bloom

4:45–5:15 p.m.

Presentation on Kraehenbuehl and Piano Pedagogy

Ed Darling

5:15–5:45 p.m.

Performance of Kraehenbuehl's piano music

Martha Braden

5:45–7:15 p.m.

Reception

Concert at Battell Chapel, Yale University

8:00–10:00 p.m.

Drumfire performed by the Amor Artis Chorale and Orchestra New England – Johannes Somary, conductor.